† The textbook is supplemental to the Unit content, and everything the student needs to know to pass the course/Final Exams is contained within the Cyber High Units; however, additional reading assignments from the book are included to help clarify concepts, give more detail, etc. as needed. We strongly recommend these reading assignments be required when using the course for a-g or acceleration purposes.

! The textbooks for American Government (United States Government: Principles in Practice) and World History A and B (World History: Patterns of Interaction) are likely the books you have, along with the newer versions. The older books are still compatible with the Unit content and can still be used with the course; they just updated the editions and changed the names as reflected in the chart above. If you need more copies of the book, please order this new version.
